WIFE IN BABY MIXUP WARNS NEWLYWEDS

Says Brides Will Seek Amusement Outside if They Don't Get It at Home.

NEED LOVING ATTENTION

Mrs. Tiernan Discusses Case Questioning Parentage of Her Child.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Tiernan, wife of Prof. John P. Tiernan, professor of law at Notre Dame University, who charges Harry Poulin with the parentage of her youngest child, to-day discussed the situation in which she finds herself.

"Sometimes," she said, "although young husbands love their wives devotedly, they are apt to give to their work a more apparent devotion than they concede to their wives. Or perhaps they have interests that require attention to the exclusion of the young wife. Naturally a young wife feels piqued when this is the case, and unless she is more than ordinarily strong of will she will seek amusement elsewhere that she should seek with her husband."

Mrs. Tiernan has borne two children for her husband in the several years of their married life. The children came about a year apart. In the periods before their arrival, and for a time afterward, Mrs. Tiernan was kept busy about the home. She loved her husband and children, and she loved her husband and children. But last winter when the children became old enough to require less attention, Mrs. Tiernan began to realize that she desired relaxation after she was through with the day's work. She asked her husband to take her to social gatherings. She asked him to accompany her when she went to places of amusement. But he was engrossed in the compilation of a new book.

"I dearly love dancing," said Mrs. Tiernan. "My husband and I were at a dance one night. I met Mr. Poulin there. At that time he did not particularly impress himself upon me—he was just another acquaintance. I did not notice at that time that he enjoyed dancing, and since his wife was unable to dance because of a recent operation, he was dancing all evening with other women. I even spoke about this to Mrs. Poulin and she replied, 'Yes, Harry does so love to dance.'"

"We met again in a perfectly formal manner, and then met again and again. A friendship began and grew between our two families. A friendship that ultimately became an intimacy. Mr. Poulin paid attention to me. I had no one to go any place with me, and I responded to his attentions. I have found out since that he did not love me."

"I loved my husband. I still have the same regard for him that I did when we were married. We were very happy when we were married and all the time afterward until this came up. Naturally, during that time I lost some of my regard for him, but after finding out what sort of man the other was I realized that my husband was the only man for me."

Poulin, Mrs. Tiernan says, was given an opportunity to accept his responsibility without the necessity of airing the scandal. She was anxious to have the matter settled without recourse to courts of law, but when there was no other way out, when she realized that a misdemeanor against the established order of things had been committed, she consented to legal steps.

In pointing the lesson for young married people in her tragedy, she said: "Young wives, sometimes, after a period of semi-imprisonment in a home, where they meet only the same people day after day, where they go through the same old routine of baking, cooking, making beds and polishing furniture, feel that they are entitled to a little relaxation."

"Their husbands, sometimes, are not socially inclined, or, if they are, they have their clubs, their men friends and the ever present change of their occupations to interest them."

"Sometimes they fail to realize the conditions under which their wives live. And when their wives meet a young man of good appearance, a man who seems to take a more than average interest in them, they very naturally seek the company of the man who interests them more than their husbands do."

"Perhaps they love their husbands as devotedly as ever. Undoubtedly they do not realize it, sometimes, until some sort of calamity brings the realization home to them."

LA FOLLETTE WINS, ALSO WET TICKET

Senator Receives Record Primary Majority in Wisconsin Over Ganfield.

SETBACKS FOR THE DRYS

May Lose Two Congress Seats—Stephens Defeats Vardaman in Mississippi.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 6. (Associated Press).—Senator Robert M. La Follette has won a record in the Republican nomination for United States Senator at the November election in this State by the greatest majority any candidate ever has polled at a primary in Wisconsin.

Returns from more than four-fifths of the State to-night show him 178,333 ahead of W. A. Ganfield of Waukesha, president of Carroll College, his only opponent. The vote from 2,057 out of 2,523 precincts in the State was: La Follette 224,727, Ganfield 116,524.

Senator La Follette carried with him what was known as the entire La Follette slate from United States Senator down to Attorney-General. Gov. Blaine who headed the La Follette State ticket, likewise rolled up a remarkable vote, and with 2,051 precincts out of the 2,523 reporting to-night he had a plurality over his nearest opponent, Attorney-General William J. Morgan, of 133,769.

What appears to be the only real upset of the primary is the contest for Representative in the Eleventh district, where Adolphus P. Nelson, rated as a dry and loyal supporter by the Anti-Saloon League, is running more than 4,000 behind Hubert H. Peavey of Wausau, who was endorsed and assisted by the association opposed to prohibition. The returns from 252 precincts out of 355 in the Eleventh district gave Peavey 19,330, Nelson 15,277. The "wet" organization is claiming Peavey's election by a majority of 5,000 or more.

The La Follette adherents are not the only ones elated in Wisconsin to-night as the wet forces point with pride to the fact that they supported the entire La Follette ticket from the Senator down and that they have gained two members of Congress. These are Peavey and George J. Schneider in the Ninth district. This latter race, however, is far from being over. Schneider and Judge Henry Graess have announced in the lead all day for this nomination.

Senator La Follette's large total came not only from those who favored the wet cause, but from a host of those who heard the Senator attack the Esch-Cummins bill, the Fordney-McCumber tariff measure, the proposed ship subsidy bill, Newberryism and his advocacy of retention of the primary election system.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 6.—Hubert D. Stephens, to-night was maintaining a lead of between 8,000 and 9,000 votes over former United States Senator James K. Vardaman, on the face of the unofficial returns accounting for more than 15,000 of the votes cast in yesterday's primary to select a successor to Senator John Sharp Williams. Friends of Mr. Stephens have accepted the returns as conclusive of victory.

An incident of to-day was the publication of a telegram from Woodrow Wilson, in which the former President referred to the trend of the count as "encouraging news." The telegram was in reply to one sent to Mr. Wilson by Frederick Sullens, editor of the Jackson Daily News, forecasting the nomination of Mr. Stephens.

Prior to the primary a letter was made public by a Mississippi man who quoted Mr. Wilson as expressing the opinion that Mr. Vardaman should not be returned to the Senate. Mr. Vardaman's attacks on the Wilson Administration during and following the war was one of the points made by Mr. Stephens during his campaign.

TEXAS DEMOCRACY SAYS IT'S WHITE MAN'S PARTY

Platform Draft Indorses Collective Bargaining.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Sept. 6. (Associated Press).—Declarations that the Democratic party in Texas is a "white man's party" and that the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively must be upheld were the principal statements in the platform as reported to the State convention here to-day by the resolutions committee. Other planks called for:

Strict interpretation of the Constitution; separation of church and State and freedom of the press.

Indorsement of the Wilson Administration.

Allegiance to the prohibition act, with regulation of its application to vessels on high seas.

Tariff for revenue only.

Right of States to control State commerce.

"We again affirm the ancient and accepted doctrine," says the platform, "that the Democratic party is a white man's party and unreservedly recommend the continued observance of the principle."

THREE KILLED IN FEUD OVER TEXAS POLITICS

Another Believed Dying as Result of Street Battle.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 6.—Three persons were killed and another perhaps mortally wounded last night at Sealy, Austin county, Texas, as the result of a political feud between two families. The feud was fought on the main street of Sealy.

The dead are Fritz Schaffner, Robert Schaffner, his son, and Luther Bell. The death of another feudist, Thomas Bell, Luther's brother, is said to be expected.

The families were leading supporters of two candidates for county judge and their feeling became evident three months ago after the candidate suggested by the Schaffners made an address in German at Cat Springs, Texas, and caused a good deal of excitement.

LAWYER ARRESTS TWO AS SLAYERS

He Captures Them Accidentally After Murder of Toledo Detective.

SUSPECTS ENTER DENIAL

Their Supposed Pal Is Found Dead in Abandoned Motor Car.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Suspected of being two of the three men who killed Police Detective William Martin, and wounded Detective George Bach, in a garage here this morning, James Roberts, 24, and Frank Mandale, 25, of Chicago, are in custody.

The suspects were captured single-handed this afternoon at Wauseon, Ohio, by J. M. Ham, an attorney of this city, who was hastening to join a posse organized to comb the countryside for the slayer of Detective Martin.

The body of another man, believed to have been the third member of the murder trio, who is thought to have been wounded in the garage battle, was found in an abandoned automobile near where Roberts and Mandale were captured. Roberts and Mandale claim they know nothing of the body and say they were not in Toledo that morning.

Mandale and Roberts asked the Wauseon lawyer for a "lift." He thought they were members of the posse, but when he stopped his automobile noticed that one of the strangers had been wounded in the face. He put the men under arrest. One carried a revolver, and the other dropped a weapon in the bottom of the machine. Brought to Toledo the suspects denied knowledge of the death of Martin. Police suspect that the men who killed Martin and shot Bach are robbers from the central West, who intended to operate in this vicinity. Cartridges were found in their automobile, which bore a Missouri license and which showed bullet marks in the body.

The murderers parked their machine in the garage Tuesday evening. The owner of the garage notified the police and Martin and Bach were sent to the garage this morning to await the appearance of the suspects. When they showed up they opened fire on the officers, jumped into the machine and sped out of town.

KILROE ASKS TO SEE GRAND JURY MINUTES

Charges Almiral Indictment Was Prejudiced.

EDWIN P. KILROE, former assistant district attorney, has applied for a second time for permission to inspect the minutes of the Almiral Grand Jury, which indicted him and Louis E. Swartz, November 11, 1920, for compounding a felony in a bigamy action in which Napoleon A. Bourassa, broker, and Helen Montrose St. Marie Bourassa were mentioned. He alleges that his indictment was found by a prejudicial jury on illegal, incompetent, hearsay and clearly prejudicial testimony, and that his constitutional rights were violated.

Mr. Kilroe and Mr. Swartz were convicted by a jury before the late Justice Bartow S. Weeks in April, 1921, and fined $500. The Appellate Division last June unanimously overruled the conviction and ordered a new trial. Justice William P. Burr will hear argument on the application to-day.

EDGAR LEE MASTERS AND HIS WIFE RECONCILED

Love for Children Factor in Reuniting Poet's Family.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Love for each other and for their children, surviving a test of three years' separation and suits for separate maintenance and divorce, has brought a reconciliation of Edgar Lee Masters, poet, and Mrs. Helen Jenkins Masters, according to friends of the couple.

Mrs. Masters filed suit for separate maintenance in 1920 and in March, 1922, obtained a decree for $300 monthly alimony. Her suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion still is in the courts.

The poet and author of Spoon River Anthology is a practicing lawyer here.

MAN WINS NEEDLEWORK PRIZE

Triumphs in Spite of Record Breaking List of Women Entries.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—Despite the record breaking list of women's entries in the needlework exhibition at the Philadelphia County Fair at Byberry, the first prize was awarded to-day to Charles L. Pratt, of this city.

His exhibit, made of 1,575 pieces of silk, was a spread eagle with a background of national and American Legion colors.

What About Wool?

It is a long cry from the days when the British Isles inherited the art of spinning and weaving wool from the Romans.

It is interesting to note that the first sheep were brought to this country in 1609 and landed at Jamestown, Va. It was almost two centuries later, however, in 1792, that the first American carding machine was put in operation.

Your memory may hark back to the days when wool sheared from the farm sheep was put through crude processes preparatory to its being spun into thread by the housewife, made into cloth and fashioned into the family clothing right at home.

What wonderful progress has been made since those days!

The American Woolen Company, one of the biggest in its field, has assets in excess of $130,000,000. Its 50 odd mills produce 70,000,000 yards of fabrics annually. Its employees number 35,000.

There are, of course, many other companies manufacturing woolen goods from domestic and imported wool, making it into cloth and sending it across the seven seas. In the past ten years American wool imports have increased more than 100%.

This is progress!

Closely allied with all industrial progress are the banking systems of the world.

They furnish the money and credit necessary to keep the wheels turning.

For 84 years the American Exchange National Bank has contributed to the progress of the world and is proud of it. Its successful experience has placed it in a position to satisfactorily serve practically every type of business.
